

THE POST

DANBURY POLICE CADETS

FEBURARY 2024

Members of the Bike squad with the employees at Ridgefield Bicycle Company

GENEREROUS DONATION

One of the groups within our Post is the Bike Squad, they have 17 bikes, all of which were in need of repair, Some members of the squad took these bikes over to the Ridgefield Bicycle Company where they completed all of the necessary repairs. The bill for this totaled to a very large sum: However the company chose to make a donation to our Post cutting over 66% of the price off the total. They were extremely generous and one of our biggest ever donors. Go to them with any of your biking needs, they are a great establishment!

Written by Hannah Sussman

MEETING ACTIVITIES

On Thursday, February 15, one of our weekly meetings, we held an exciting game for our Cadets to have some fun! The game revolved around the phonetic Alphabet, PT (Physical Training), and most importantly, teamwork. We had Cadets run back and forth from our Chief to their team and spell out a word but, instead of normal spelling they had to use the phonetic alphabet. This allowed us to have some fun while also learning something that will help us when we work in the community. Cadets had fun and were able to work with one another to gain as many points as possible.

Written By Emily Prieto

Cadets hearing the instructions for our Phonetic Alphabet Game

THE POST

DANBURY POLICE CADETS

FEBURARY 2024

Members of Color Guard prepare for the Awards Dinner

COLOR GUARD

Within our Post we have a Color Guard which consists of a small group of cadets who present the colors at major parades and events while also representing our Post and stake in the Danbury community. Their commander, Samantha Maza, has hosted a round of tryouts to induct newer Cadets into the group. She has also held many practices for upcoming events, including our awards dinner, which will have Samantha Maza, Aya Schwartz, Rebecca Vaz and Chelsea Pelaez presenting the colors.

Written By Chelsea Pelaez

NEW ADVISOR

Our Post is glad to announce one of our newest Advisors, Sergeant Micheal Russotti. He recently attended Advisor Training to help lead our Post, learning things such as readiness in tough situations, and other scenarios that could occur. He will work with our other Advisors to keep the post positively impacting our community. Advisor Russotti says that he is impressed with how things are done within the Post and is glad that he is taking part in something with such value. We're so excited to see his contributions and leadership in our Post.

Written By Emily Prieto, Melanie Fajardo

Melanie Fajardo with Advisor Russotti